

THUTHUZELA

CARE CENTRE

Turning Victims into Survivors

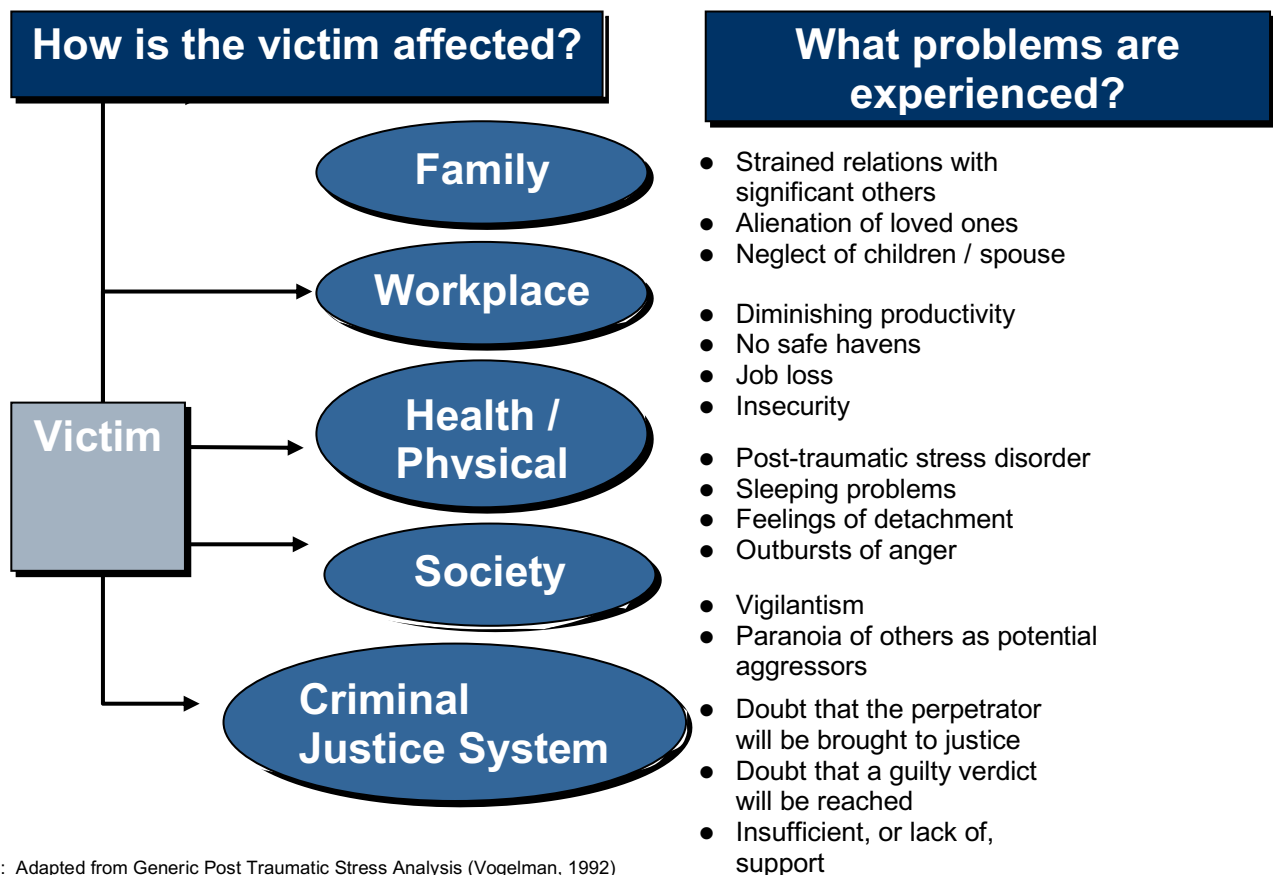

The Thuthuzela Care Centre (TCC). An integrated approach to sexual and gender-based violence care management is one of respect, comfort, restoring dignity and ensuring justice for the girls, boys, women and men who are victims of sexual violence.

Thuthuzela Care Centres (TCCs) are one-stop facilities that have been introduced as a critical part of South Africa's anti-rape strategy, aiming to reduce secondary victimisation, improve conviction rates and reduce the cycle time for finalisation of cases.

The Thuthuzela Care Centre Model is led by the National Prosecuting Authority's (NPA's) Sexual Offences and Community Affairs Unit (SOCA), in partnership with national government departments and donors as a response to the urgent need for an integrated strategy for prevention, response and support for sexual and gender-based violence victims. Since its establishment in 1999 the SOCA Unit has developed best practices and policies that seek to eradicate victimisation of women and children, while improving prosecution, particularly in the areas of sexual offences, maintenance, child justice, domestic violence, and trafficking in persons.

The context: Rape is complex and has a wide impact in society ...

Thuthuzela Care Centre operations: How does the TCC work?

- Step 1: You can report sexual and gender-based violence offences (including of rape) directly to a TCC (based at community clinics or hospitals) or to a police station
- Step 2: TCC staff will assist to get you immediate medico-legal attention at the Centre
- Step 3: TCC staff will arrange psycho-social intervention or referral to specialized psychological services either within the hospital, or so designated.
- Step 4: TCC staff will assist you to report the case to a police official. Matters can be reported immediately or at a later stage.
- Step 5: TCC staff will arrange for on-going counselling as well as being informed of court proceedings through a victim assistant officer. Where the matter proceeds to trial, a court preparation officer will provide the necessary court preparation.
- Step 6: Prosecutors (Case Managers) who are appointed for a specific TCC as specialists in sexual offences and gender-based violence, shall track, monitor and guide the investigation and prosecution of sexual and gender-based violence cases. The aforementioned process commences with the reporting of the case until the matter is finalised within a court environment.

Thuthuzela Care Centres are located within a public hospital based in communities where the incidence rape is particularly high. The TCC is linked to a magistrate's court (ideally a dedicated sexual offence court). This court is capacitated with prosecutors skilled in SGBV matters, judiciary, court interpreters, social workers, non-governmental organisations (NGOs), as well as court preparation officers. The court is also located in close proximity to the TCC.

The TCCs are facilitated by inter departmental SGBV management teams at both national and provincial levels. These teams consist of departments of Justice, Health, Education, Treasury, Correctional Services, Police, Social Development and designated civil society organisations.

The TCCs integrated approach to dealing with sexual and gender-based violence matters, is that of respect, comfort, restoring dignity and ensuring justice for children, women and men who are victims of SGBV offences.

The process involved when reporting sexual and gender-based violence matters, is where a survivor is removed from crowds and intimidating environments, to a victim-friendly room at a police station, before being transported by the police or an ambulance to the nearest TCC. Enroute, the survivor may receive comfort and crisis counselling from a trained ambulance volunteer or police officer.

Once at the Thuthuzela Care Centre, the survivor is ushered to a quiet, private space, and welcomed by the site-coordinator. A doctor will conduct a medical examination, once the survivor has received trauma containment. The medical officer will provide the survivor with information relating to the medical examination and procedure.

The survivor will be required to sign a (SAPS 308) consent form, prior to the medical examination and procedure. Where a child is involved, the consent of a parent/ guardian or primary caregiver or medical superintendent will be required.

Where the medical examination is conducted within 72 hours of the sexual offence taking place, the survivor will be provided with Post exposure prophylaxis (PEP). Additional DNA swabs will be collected by the medical officer, thereafter the survivor will be provided with an opportunity to take a bath or shower, and to change into clean clothes.

Thereafter the survivor's statement will be taken by a SAPS official at the TCC. Thereafter, the survivor may receive appropriate medication and is provided with a follow-up date for further medical treatment and psycho-socio intervention before being transported home.

The TCC process ensures that service providers are available to sexual and gender-based violence survivors in one location, rather than them being moved around in the criminal justice system.

Various National Departments and donors have also contributed to making the model child-friendly, through offering technical expertise for the installation and availability of specialized equipment and furniture. These include two way-mirrors, close-circuit TV as well as anatomically correct dolls. These aids assist child witnesses to testify at court.

Impact of the Thuthuzela Care Centres

The TCC model has improved the process of reporting and prosecuting sexual and gender-based violence offences. The model further reduces secondary trauma to survivors as the entire process takes place in a dignified and friendly environment.

At the heart of the success of the Thuthuzela approach is the professional medical and legal interface and a high degree of cooperation between victim and service providers from reporting through investigation and prosecution of the crime, leading up to conviction of the offender. This has led to an increase in conviction rates. Higher levels of awareness have resulted in an increased number of cases reported at police stations and taken immediately to a Thuthuzela Care Centre.

Services offered at the Thuthuzela Care Centres (TCCs)

- Welcome and comfort from a site co-coordinator or nurse.
- An explanation of how the medical examination will be conducted and whether clothing might be taken for evidence collection.
- A consent form is signed allowing the medical officer to conduct the medical examination.
- During the medical examination a nurse will be present.
- After the medical examination, the survivor may take a bath or shower at the TCC, as such facilities are available at the TCC.
- An investigating officer will interview the survivor and take their statement.
- A social worker or nurse will provide counselling.
- A nurse arranges for follow-up visits, treatment and medication for Sexually Transmitted Infections (STIs), HIV and AIDS.
- A referral letter or appointment will be made for long-term counselling.
- The victim (survivor) is offered transportation home by an ambulance or the investigating officer.
- Arrangements can be made for the survivor to go to a place of safety, where necessary.
- The survivor is kept informed of the progress of the matter at court through the victim assistant officer.
- Consultation with a specialist prosecutor takes place before the case goes to court.

- Court preparation is conducted by court preparation officer at court.
- An explanation of the outcome and update of the court process by the case manager is given to the victim assistant officer.

I have been raped ... what do I do?

- Do NOT wash or change clothes – Clothes can provide important evidence of the rape.
 - Report the rape to someone you trust, the police or the TCC, as soon as possible.
 - If there is no TCC, go immediately to the nearest clinic/ hospital for medical assistance.
